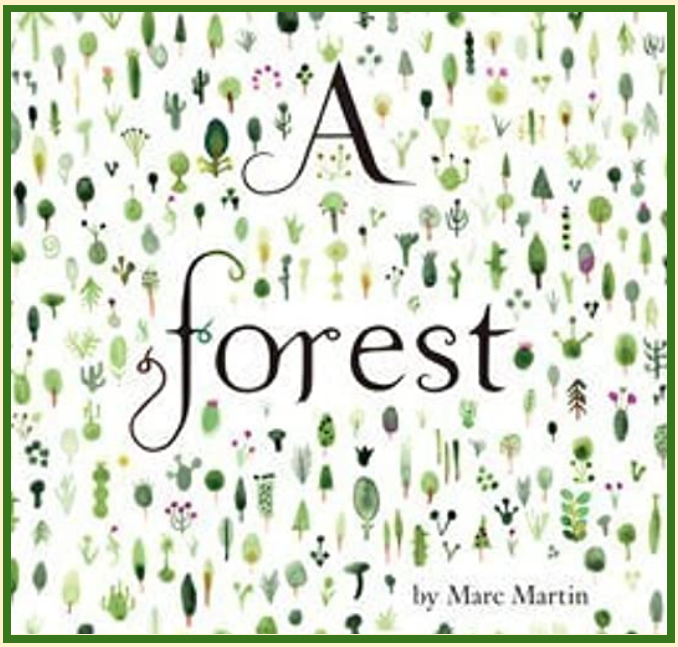
Online Reading Lesson 7 - A Forest

Making connections from text to text. (book to book)



Read the whole book - "A Forest" by Marc Martin.
This is a youtube video and there is no narrator (story reader), so you will have to practise pausing the video so that you can read the text (the sentences). A Forest - video
https://drive.google.com/file/d/1-wK0cR5nvVoZ75Mku9NtcyG2BKGQWHKd/view

1)

- Now begin the story again,
- Pause the video at 1:13,
- This picture reminds me of The Lorax, when the Once-ler cut down the very first Truffula tree.

2)

- Pause next at 1:21, can you think of an event from The Lorax that seems similar to this page? (make a connection)
- Write your answer here: ↙
-

© HyperDocs

3)

- Pause next at 1:37, can you think of an event from The Lorax that seems similar to this page? (make a connection)
- Write your answer here: ↙
-

4)

- Pause next at 1:56, can you think of an event from The Lorax that seems similar to this page? (make a connection)
- Write your answer here: ↙
-

5)

- Pause next at 2:19, can you think of an event from The Lorax that seems similar to this page? (make a connection)
- Write your answer here: ↙
-

- This text reminds us of The Lorax, as there are many similarities in the themes.
- Making connections with the books that we read, helps our brains to understand what we are reading.
- (And it makes reading more fun!)

© HyperDocs

The air became so thick that a dreadful storm started to brew…

© HyperDocs